FEATURES OF RELIGIOUS TOURISM DEVELOPMENT OF ROME-CATHOLIC CHURCH IN LVIV REGION

The purpose of our study is to carry out a comprehensive scientific and theoretical analysis of the peculiarities of the development of religious tourism and pilgrimage of the Roman Catholic Church in the Lviv region.

The methodological basis of our work is the system of general scientific and special methods of cognition of scientific phenomena. The general scientific method combines a wide range of methods of both theoretical and applied research. The determined tasks and subject of the study led to the use of dialectical, statistical, formal-logical, formal-dogmatic, systemic-structural, comparative-legal, sociological and historical methods.

The methodological basis of our work is the universal scientific dialectic method, which makes it possible to analyze the phenomenon of religious tourism and pilgrimage in its development, interaction and interrelation with other phenomena. The practical significance of the results obtained is that the conclusions and provisions of this work will contribute to its further development. Scientific novelty. Travel pilgrims are carried out to religious sites. These objects of pilgrimage are used not only in religious tourism, but also as interesting places of interest in other types of tourism, in particular, in cultural-cognitive, rural and ecological.

Considering the importance of the spiritual revival of Ukrainian citizens, the development of the interest of foreign tourists in the religious and cultural values of different denominations, the preparation of recommendations and development of measures for the organization and development of religious tourism in the Lviv region will be relevant. The practical significance of the results is the possibility of their use in the research area for further research on the phenomenon of religious tourism and pilgrimage; in the field of teaching in the teaching of disciplines and in the preparation of textbooks, manuals and methodological recommendations.
