

-

Borrowing without specifying a source.

-

The article was already published in another edition (including electronic editions and Internet).

-

The article is framed in non-compliance with the requirements.

-

A significant discrepancy in links to text.

-

Absence or incompleteness of any component of metadata / contact information / postal address.

-

Absence of a review (recommendation, assignment, reference) of the scientific adviser, certified with a signature and seal (only for authors that have no academic degree).

-

Absence of UDC / JEL.

-

Absence of the list of references.

-

Insufficient volume of abstract.

-

Insufficient volume of the list of references.

-

Categorical negative conclusion of a reviewer.

Authors whose articles have received a negative review from the peer-reviewer (or applied plagiarism, or a manuscript was recommended to print in some other edition, or other reasons for refusal), please do not submit your articles (same/new) during the year according to the International Regulations of publication in the scientific journals.